

Internal Audit Practitioner:

A new first stop on your road to success

The IIA's Internal Audit Practitioner designation is a great way to quickly demonstrate your internal audit aptitude. You can earn this new designation through social badging by completing the Internal Audit Practitioner application and taking and passing the Certified Internal Auditor (CIA®) Part One exam.

Candidates who have successfully completed the CIA® Part One exam within the past 24 months are also eligible to apply.

Build Your Brand and Position Yourself for Success

The CIA is the only globally accepted designation for internal auditors. It is the standard by which internal audit professionals demonstrate their knowledge and competence in the areas of governance, risk and control enabling them to facilitate and manage today's complex internal audit responsibilities. This credential is appropriate for:

- Audit directors
- Audit managers and staff
- Chief audit executives
- Risk management staff
- Business, finance and accounting students

Candidates for the CIA credential must meet the eligibility requirements established by the Institute of Internal Auditors. Visit theiia.org/certification for complete details.

Earning this credential will:

- Boost your earning potential! IIA's Internal Audit Compensation Studies found that certified internal audit professionals earn up to 45 percent more than noncertified professionals.
- Demonstrate your knowledge and competence to internal management and external clients.
- Fine tune your knowledge and application of best practices in the industry.
- Open new doors for career advancement.
- Obtain professional recognition and credibility with peers and clients.
